Red Fox Activity Sheet

The EcoTarium cares for one red fox, named Socks. Socks has lived with us since 2010, after being found as an orphaned pup by a wildlife rehabber.

Did You Know

- Red foxes are omnivores and will eat almost anything they can hunt or find, including rodents, rabbits, birds, eggs, or plants such as fruit.

- Red foxes are one of two species of fox that can be found in Massachusetts. The other is the Gray Fox.

- Wild red foxes can also sometimes be black, red-brown, or golden in color.
